To whom it may concern:

My name is Brenda Devauld and I am the president of the British Columbia Women's Institute. On June 24, 2020, we passed the following resolution.

“Be it resolved that the British Columbia Women’s Institute petition the Solicitor General of the Government of British Columbia to amend the Cemetery, Interment and Funeral Services Act and all regulations to include a definition of cremation and in that definition included the provision for Alkaline Hydrolysis to be an approved method of cremation within the Province of British Columbia”

We recognize that even in death we can reduce our environmental footprint by reducing carbon emissions in the air.

The BCWI has existed in British Columbia for over 100 years and has always been in the forefront of important issues including environmental ones.

As consumers we are gravely concerned about the lack of sustainable disposition options. We want your help in protecting the consumer interests.

We look forward to your response.

For Home & Country,

Brenda Devauld,
BCWI President
